

First, I can't receive over the air radio due to tower interference in my area. Second, over the air radio does not offer type of news, information and creative programming provided by XM.

Third, the public interest is best served with programming that responds to On Demand traffic and weather, life that offered by XM. With normal (over the air) programming delays and channel surfing there is insufficient time to make critical decision respecting route and weather. ON DEMAND XM services solve that problem.
